Girl, 3, Trapped In 120-Ft. Well

Rescuers Nearing Youngster

Men, Machines In Grim Race

Rescue crews today reached the depth at which 3½-year-old Kathy Fiscus is trapped inside a 14-inch casing, an abandoned well 120 feet deep.

And men, armed with torches, descended to cut through the casing at a depth of 85 feet.

They are in a 25-foot-wide hole gouged during the night by giant crane shovels under the glare of 50 floodlights. The men are John Inhnat and Albert Linnel, former miners.

Don Metz, construction engineer in charge of the excavation and an old friend of Kathy's family, said he was certain he saw the little girl last evening with the aid of searchlights. Later he looked but couldn't see her. Apparently she had slipped below a bend in the pipe.

GIRL DROPS DOWN

A rubber ball was lowered on a wire and stopped at a depth of 87 feet, indicating the child was at that level. Later another ball was dropped and descended 100 feet before stopping, indicating she had slipped to that depth.

The location of the girl at the 87-foot level was determined by dropping a ball attached to a steel tape. It stopped against something in the pipe at that level and was pulled up dry, firemen said.

But there was no cry from below.

There had been no cry or word from little Kathy since about an hour after she tumbled down the shaft while running after her sister, Barbara, nine, and cousin, Gus Lyon, five.

"We can only hope Kathy is sleeping," said Police Chief Glen McClung, speaking what was on the mind of every worker and watcher, including Kathy's distraught parents, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Fiscus. Hundreds stayed on through the night to watch the rescue efforts.

Kathy was playing in a vacant lot near her home when it happened. The children were footracing from one end of the lot to the other. Kathy couldn't keep up.

When the two older children looked back, they couldn't see Kathy. They started searching and Gus almost stepped in the hole when he heard screams of terror rising faintly from below.

The children ran and got Mrs. Fiscus. She came and shouted down to her daughter: "Can you hear me, Kathy?"

A faint "yes" came between screams.

First officers at the scene lowered a rope down the pipe and said they felt some pressure at the other end. They heard more screams, then only quiet.

Condition Still Serious

The condition of Frankie Oswalt, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Oswalt, Hanna road, critically burned in a fire at the home Thursday morning, was slightly improved at General hospital today, officials said.

He has been taken out of the oxygen tent, where he was placed on his arrival at the hospital early yesterday, but hospital officials said he is still in serious condition.

Oswalt was reported in good condition and Mrs. Oswalt remained in fair condition at the hospital, officials said. The baby, Carol, is in good condition.

The Oswalts and Mrs. Oswalt's cousin, Brud Richardson, were injured when flames gutted their small home at the northern edge of the city. The family escaped through windows.

Bossy's Tail Worth $100, Farmer Says

A Jackson township farmer thinks a cow's tail is worth $100.

Loss of Bossy's tail which allegedly became entangled in a power line tower is valued at that figure in an $875 suit filed in Richland county common pleas court by Frank A. Wheeler. The petition names the Ohio Public Service company as defendant.

Wheeler charges the cow lost her tail, a calf died after falling in a hole excavated by power company workers, and his land and fences were damaged by workers.

Beymer Gets Contract For Church

First Congregational Work Starts April 17

The general contract for the building of two units of the First Congregational church has been awarded to Frank Beymer, Mansfield contractor, H. B. Soulen, building committee chairman, said today.

The units will include the sanctuary and the religious education building. Still to be let are contracts for the chapel and the social hall, but those, Soulen said, will be considered later.

The entire project is expected to cost about $400,000, but Soulen said the committee has determined the exact cost of the two units for which contracts were let because there are subcontracts to be awarded, involving a number of buildings and installation jobs.

The two units to be built this spring will contain about 328,000 cubic feet. The entire plan of four units includes about 411,000 feet, Soulen said, and the two units to be built now add up to about 80 per cent of that amount.

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new church home will be held Sunday afternoon, April 17, and excavation will start immediately, Soulen said.

The two units will be erected from plans drawn by the W. H. Thomas architects of Philadelphia. Charles Conklin Mansfield architect, is assisting with plans.

The new building will be erected at Millsboro road and Marion avenue on ground donated by the Black family. It will face Millsboro road.

Soldier Finds Trouble Never Comes Singly

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — (INS) — A soldier stationed at Camp Carson could use a rabbit's foot, some four-leaf clovers and a lucky horse shoe.

Cpl. Thorpe T. Cooper, of Blackfoot, Ida., drove his car into a traffic light in Colorado Springs. He suffered a leg fracture, cuts and bruises.

He was fined $250 for drunken driving, $150 for reckless driving, and $150 for damaging city property. His driving license was suspended.

He faces loss of his army rating for the civilian conviction, and he was committed to jail because he had no money to pay the fines.

As Cooper hobbled out of the courtroom on his way to jail, a stranger stopped him, asked his name, and handed him a divorce summons.

Flays 'Leak' In Pentagon

Bradley Hurls Treason Charge

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Gen. Omar N. Bradley angrily told a congressional subcommittee that the Pentagon officials who recently "leaked" military secrets for publication "should be tried for treason."

The army chief of staff declared that the disclosures, in his opinion, were "bordering on being guilty of treason." He asserted that the nation's defense planners are "very much worried that such things as this would leak out."

Bradley's blast at those responsible for the "leaks," which recently caused a furor in Congress, was made at a closed hearing before the House Armed Services appropriations subcommittee.

The chief of staff was questioned concerning news stories about possible B-36 targets in Russia and developments in biological warfare.

Rep. Mahon (D) Texas, chairman of the House group, commented:

"I believe the average American citizen is disgusted and alarmed by the revealing of military secrets, a tendency which has been in progress for a long time."

Seventy Laid Off

MOUNT VERNON — (AP) — The Shellmar Products corporation today announced the layoff of 70 workers due to seasonal business fluctuations.

Legislation Being Drafted

Will Ask 2 Billion For Europe Arming

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The administration plans today to send Congress a bill for almost two billion dollars for rearming eight of the nation's North Atlantic neighbors.

The legislation, still in the drafting stage, is expected to reach the capitol at about the time the North Atlantic treaty goes to the Senate for ratification.

Rearmament aid, in money and weapons, is being asked by Great Britain, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Norway and Denmark.

The amount asked reportedly is greater than previous reports indicated. But officials believe they will be able to prove that money spent on the cold war is far less than would be needed in a shooting war, and therefore real economy.

As yet there is said to be no real agreement on how the money will be raised. President Truman has refused to endorse the suggestion that it be taken out of the defense budget or Economic Cooperation administration funds.

According to his latest public statement, he still opposes deficit financing to meet the bill and wants a four-billion-dollar tax increase.

Diplomatic developments over the past week—probably the most significant since the war's end—presumably will be used to prove that the western powers, by a stiff and united front, have forced Russia into a bargaining position.

Lift Rent Controls For 58,000 Units

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Rent controls were removed today on about 58,000 housing units in seven states including part of the Pittsburgh area.

The decontrol action is the latest in a series under which Federal Housing Expediter Tighe Woods took rent ceilings off of some 170,000 units within a week.

Delay Milk Price Action

Cut May Be More Than Cent, Dairymen Hint

Mansfielders will continue to pay 19 cents a quart for milk for at least a few more days, according to Dale Dohner, manager of the North Central Ohio Cooperative Dairy Sales association.

The association, which sets milk prices for the Mansfield area, has failed to take action on a price cut, Dohner said today.

Cleveland milk prices were cut to 18 cents a quart March 31, and Ashland, Plymouth, Shiloh, and Bucyrus have followed Cleveland's lead.

Dohner said he expects a price drop in the near future, and it may be more than one cent a quart. He pointed out dairy cattle will soon be put out on pasture and there usually is a decrease in milk prices at that time. The trend in milk prices definitely is down, he added.

Dohner said a number of producers were opposed to a cut in milk prices at the present time. They said their costs have not declined as rapidly as retail milk prices. They pointed out there has been no material price decrease in farm machinery, one of the big costs in dairy farming.

Police Unearth Stolen $50,000

NEW YORK — (INS) — Police today unearthed from a vacant Queens lot $50,000 stolen yesterday from the Royal Dutch Airlines (KLM) and said that a clerk employed by the company confessed the theft.

OSR Parolee Charged In Iberia Slaying

MT. GILEAD—A 19-year-old youth who has been out of the Mansfield reformatory only two weeks was charged today with the fatal shooting of his sister yesterday afternoon. The slaying followed a quarrel in their home south of Iberia in northern Morrow county.

John Thomas Barnett, OSR parolee, pleaded innocent today in a justice's court in Mt. Gilead. He was held in the Morrow county jail under $10,000 bond.

He is accused of slaying his sister, Mrs. Mary Velma Campbell, 21, mother of two children. Her body was found in an enclosed back porch at her home about two hours after the shooting.

C. H. Maidens, who owns the farm where the shooting occurred, found the woman's body after her three-year-old son, Dennis, came to the Maidens home sobbing:

"Tommy took Daddy's rifle—shot Mamma dead."

A posse of state highway patrolmen and deputies from Morrow and Crawford counties surrounded and captured Barnett four hours later in the maple grove on an adjoining farm owned by Sam McClarren. Barnett, paroled March 23 into the custody of Campbell, had been serving a sentence for auto theft in the Mansfield institution.

JOHN THOMAS BARNETT

The youth told Prosecutor Leon McCarty of Morrow county today that the shooting followed Mrs. Campbell's threat to tell authorities Barnett planned to break his parole.

Justice of Peace R. C. McKay bound Barnett to the Morrow county grand jury.

Prosecutor McCarty said the $10,000 bond was "mistake" of Justice McKay since first-degree murder suspects usually are held without bond.

SHOT TWICE

Dr. Frank Sweeney, Morrow county coroner, said Mrs. Campbell had been shot through the arm and chest with a .22 caliber rifle. The posse found footprints near the edge of a nearby woods and surrounded Barnett in a corner near a maple grove on the adjoining farm of Sam McClarren.

Sheriff's officers said Barnett surrendered when they demanded that he drop the rifle he was carrying. One of the officers then fired a warning shot into the air and Barnett hovered against a fence post as if frightened, authorities said.

Mrs. Campbell was the wife of K. K. "Red" Campbell, a grain elevator employe at nearby St. James, who was at work when the shooting occurred.

Neighbors said Barnett had been living at the home of the Campbells since he was paroled from the reformatory.

Maidens, who found the body, said Mrs. Campbell had washed Friday morning and hung the clothes out before coming to their house at noon for a quart of milk. Mrs. J. J. Maidens, 90, mother of Maidens, says Mrs. Campbell was

Reds Launch New Attack

NANKING — (INS) — Chinese communists reportedly opened a major offensive on the Yangtze today and Nationalist officials appeared pessimistic about the outcome of current peace negotiations.

After a top-level meeting, one Nationalist leader said he thought peace talks would definitely end April 12, and said that "might be an unhappy day for China."

Chinese government sources said the communists have attacked along the one thousand mile Yangtze river front.

Reports reaching the Chinese capital from the battle areas said that three government strongholds on the north bank of the Yangtze fell within 36 hours after the renewed fighting broke out.

OK Cash For Arms

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A $15,909,116,800 national defense money bill was approved today by the House Appropriations committee with a blunt statement that America must "prepare for trouble and thereby seek to avoid it."

The record postwar military budget, more than half a billion dollars higher than President Truman requested, finances the army, navy and air force for the year starting July 1.

The air force got the biggest total, while both the army and navy got less than Mr. Truman wanted for them.

Nowhere in the thousands of printed pages of testimony on which the bill was based was there any suggestions that the United States is on the verge of war, but top military leaders agreed that some unpredictable event might suddenly start a conflict at any time.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff, told the committee he does not anticipate war within the year ending June 30, 1950, and added without elaboration: "Last year I was more worried than I am at the present time."

The total in the bill compared with $10,454,477,413 cash voted by Congress last year when each service was financed separately.

UEW Union Heads Fined

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Twelve CIO unionists were held today in county jail under a record-setting $2,060,000 bond after their conviction of 44 acts of contempt of a court order prohibiting violence and mass picketing at the Fawick Airflex company.

The 12 were meted out penalties calling for a total of 440 days in jail and payment of $22,500 in fines, plus court costs.

Common Pleas Judge James C. Connell also termed the strike by the left-wing CIO-United Electrical Workers at the suburban Brooklyn plant "a phony" and ordered it "judiciously ended," thus banning all picketing at the plant.

Paul Shepard, an organizer for the union, received the top sentence of a $4,000 fine and 80 days in jail. Marie Reed, a Vassar college graduate and business representative of the union, drew a 50-day sentence and a $2,500 fine.

Judge Connell set bonds ranging from $10,000 on Ignatius Monachino, president of UEW Local 735 which has been waging the strike since March 7, to $700,000 on Morris Stamm, chief steward of the union.

Mother Tells How Gambling Robs Seven Children of Food

Another pathetic case in which a family with seven children has been denied food and medical care because the husband spends his money at gambling in Mansfield came to light yesterday.

In a letter to The News-Journal, a mother of seven children relates that her husband "has lost over $1,200 in the last three or four years at the gambling places at Mansfield."

The name of the woman and place of residence are being withheld to avoid embarrassment for the children.

The letter follows:

"Mansfield News-Journal: Maybe I shouldn't write you this because I guess you have plenty to do without getting letters from people who want advice, but I don't know who else to turn to for advice. I am a mother of seven children so I can't go anytime I wish or I would come to see you in person.

"What I want to know is: Could I have a chance to get the money my husband lost at gambling? He has lost over $1,200 (dollars) in the last 3 or 4 years at the gambling places at Mansfield. We are in need of money. The children need clothes badly. His pay doesn't go far anymore. We are in debt badly all because of gambling and the children don't get the right foods they should have. We can't take them to the doctor when they need to because of gambling.

"I know my husband shouldn't gamble but if the gambling was stopped men wouldn't be tempted to lose money. Could I sue the places he has lost money and get any of it back? Please, if you could I would be very grateful if you could tell me who to go to to see about it. My name is . . .

She then signed her name and address.

The letter was shown to Prosecutor Harold Lutz yesterday afternoon. Lutz said that in such a case the woman could bring an action for non-support against her husband.

"If men don't support their children, all a mother must do is come into this office and we'll file charges of non-support," Lutz said. He pointed out that non-support is a penitentiary offense.

Mansfield Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab said on Dec. 15 regarding another letter to The News-Journal in which a woman wrote that her husband lost badly needed money in a crap game, that the woman could recover under the law. (She would have to employ her own attorney to do so.)

Gambling operations continue on a "wide-open" scale in Mansfield as Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and Schwab continue their "hands-off" policy.

In a case now pending in common pleas court, Mrs. Helen J. Ethel, of 542½ Lily street, is suing Glynn D. Bethea, operator of the Corner Billiards at 246 North Mulberry street, for $1,250, claimed as a result of gambling losses allegedly incurred by her husband, Arthur, at the pool hall.

Her action seeks $750 in gambling losses and $500 in damages as provided for under Ohio law.

Glee Clubs Give Concert At Simpson

Program to Be Presented Tuesday

By SHERRY FIKE

Ninety-four members of the ninth grade girls' and boys' choirs at John Simpson junior high school will take part in a glee club concert in Simpson auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday.

The concert was originally scheduled for Friday night, but was postponed because of the death of the father of Mrs. A. LeMoine Derr. Derr is in charge of the boys' choir.

Derr, Mrs. Virginia Allen, and Miss Fannie Lew Eiler will direct the concert.

Tickets, selling for 50 cents, may be purchased from students or at the door. The money will go in a school music fund.

GIVE TYPING AWARDS

In the latest typing competition for Gregg Typing awards, Virginia Hullinger was first, Janet Geary, second, Elfrieda Lahm, third, and Shirley Yoakam, fourth.

Other students who achieved ratings are listed in the order of their scores. Lynn Hartley, Joan Stranski, Mary Lou Ross, Virginia Boyd, Patricia Estes, Catherine Kalinoff, Joan Hoff, Beverly McKeehan, Ewald Glaesser, Carolyn Cushing, Beverly Morr, Carol Parsons, Hysen Selman, and Jim Welker.

In addition to their regular class work, Miss Virginia Howard's typing classes type all copy for the various news outlets of Simpson. The three students who do most of the news copy did not have time to compete for Gregg awards due to this extra activity. They are: Georgene Scholler, Pat Christoff, and Raymond Gerrell.

The award given for speed and efficiency by Gregg is the Competent Typist Award.

The ninth grade class held a meeting Wednesday with their advisor, Robert Glass. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss a prom which climaxes the years' events for the '49ers.

Ninth home economics classes soon will be working on a cake baking project. Cakes will be for sale, said Miss Eleanor Wilcox, director.

Simpson regrets to hear of the death of Mrs. A. Lemoine Derr's father.

Bob Pryor, former Simpson student, has moved to Mount Vernon.

The important business under consideration by the monitors now is the election of officers for the coming year. After the nomination of the candidate, names will be placed on a ballot and an election will take place at a general meeting.

COLOR EASTER EGGS

Seventh grade cooking classes will color Easter eggs as their next week's project says Miss Eleanor Wilcox, their teacher.

A telegram arrived at John Simpson Tuesday morning saying that Wardell Marionettes, which were to be presented to the Simpson students as an assembly, would be here at a later date, due to illness.

Simpson noon dances will continue after April 18, following the Lent season.

Simpson library has received 23 new books, 10 of which are fiction and 13 nonfiction.

Leading in the Simpson jr. Red Cross Tax Stamp race is Room 20 with $500 worth of tax stamps. Runner-up is Room 105 with over $200 worth of stamps.

Miss Connie Derr, Mr. Dotson's secretary, will continue her studies in personnel work at Bowling Green university this summer.

Simpson students will carry grade cards the week after Easter vacation for their fifth term grades.

Ninth grade students will soon register for Senior High with the assistance of Dr. Edwin C. Fensch, guidance director of Mansfield schools.

27 Civic Music Memberships Open

Several memberships in the Mansfield Civic Music association were still open today.

Persons wishing to hold membership should contact either Dean Eckert at the Farmers Savings and Trust company or with the association president, E. D. Gibson, spokesmen said.

Officials of the association said a Civic Music program has been assured for another year. A talent committee meeting was held last night to consider next season's program. Final decision on the talent selection will be announced at the close of the membership campaign Saturday night.

New Church Organizes Tomorrow

The Holy Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church will be an official religious institution after tomorrow morning, when organization of the new church will be effected. At 6 p. m. today the charter membership will be closed. Yesterday the charter list stood at 62 members.

Rev. Wray Smith, pastor of the Lutheran mission in South Boulevards, asks that anyone who wishes to become a charter member call him prior to 6 p. m.

At the Sunday morning service Dr. E. Clyde Zander, missionary superintendent of the Ohio Synod of Lutheran churches, will speak at 11 a. m. following the formal reception of charter members, through confirmation, confession of faith and transfer of letters.

Sunday at 7:15 p. m. Atty. John F. Kramer will speak at vesper services. In addition, there will be election of permanent officers and installation of the church council. At that meeting the constitution of the church will be formally adopted.

The offering tomorrow will go toward the purchase price of the lot at the corner of Cook road and Lexington avenue and an adjacent parking lot which the congregation is considering.

Following tomorrow's service, application will be made for incorporation papers, that the church presented to the Ohio Synod for approval.

Congregation at Lucas To Commune Sunday

LUCAS — Rev. L. B. Keasey, of New York, will hold communion services for the Mt. Zion Lutheran congregation Sunday morning in the local school building. Since the February, 1948 fire which destroyed the Mt. Zion church building the congregation has been meeting in the school.

James Lumadue, theological student at Hamma Divinity school in Springfield, will fill the Mt. Zion pulpit after his graduation and ordination in June. The church rebuilding campaign continues with the parsonage, near the burned-out site, still remaining.

HEADS ALTAR GUILD—Mrs. Lester Wendland arranges flowers on the altar of the Seventh Day Adventist church, where members will worship until their new church home is erected. Mrs. Wendland is assisted in altar guild duties by Mrs. Marguerite Hoffman.

Scout Troop Gets Charter

Seventy-five Boy Scouts and their parents attended annual charter presentation ceremonies of Boy Scout troop 20 at East Mansfield school Thursday. The ceremonies were preceded by a covered-dish dinner.

Scoutmaster R. B. Tallentire was master of ceremonies at the program in the school auditorium. Floyd Dent, area scout executive, presented the new charter to W. A. Rose, chairman of the troop committee.

Assistant Scoutmaster Herman Gross presented awards to scouts attaining an advanced rank during the year.

One hundred per cent attendance badges were given to Harold Leiendecker, Robert McLaughlin, David McBride, and Jerry Tallentire for perfect attendance during the year.

Harold Leiendecker, who recently was advanced to the rank of life scout, pinned the miniature badge of his rank on his mother in a special ceremony after the program.

Scouting skills were demonstrated by members of three troop patrols. They included first aid, history of the flag, and a special fire-making demonstration by David McBride.

Rev. Simm Takes City Pastorate

Rev. Edward C. Simm is the new pastor at the Mansfield Gospel Center, 80 South Diamond street. Rev. Simm succeeds Rev. Mark Senter jr., who was transferred to Greenville, S. C.

Rev. and Mrs. Simm arrived in Mansfield yesterday afternoon and will take up their residence at the parsonage, 417 Hammond avenue.

The Simms came here from Augusta, Ga., where Rev. Simm held pastorate. Their former home was in Altoona, Pa.

British Laborite Party Defeated

LONDON — (INS) — Britain's Labor party, its grip on local councils badly shaken in this week's balloting, today puts the party's case before the voters in 23 additional counties.

Laborites suffered their most disastrous setback in London yesterday when, after 15 years control of the County council, they gained nothing better than a tie.

Lauds Appointment Made to U. S. Senate

The most dramatic, because of its unexpectedness, and the most heartening evidence of the political metamorphosis in the South is the appointment by Governor W. Kerr Scott of North Carolina of Dr. Frank P. Graham as the new United States senator.

In North Carolina last week I found the politicians stunned and the people jubilant.

More than fifty persons had been urged upon Governor Scott for the appointment by various political factions. It would appear that no one except Governor Scott and Senator Graham knew that North Carolina's most distinguished citizen was being considered for the post.

It has taken superlative courage and vision for the quiet and diminutive new senator to carve the career he has made in any part of the United States and especially in the South.

Dr. Graham has made the University of North Carolina one of the truly great educational institutions of America. He has imbued hundreds of students with the quiet intelligence and objective ability to act upon facts rather than prejudices which has characterized Dr. Graham's own life.

Inevitably he has become the target of both left and right. Backwoods legislators have piloried him and attempted to cut appropriations for the university because of his belief that education should embrace all the knowledge available. At the same time, despite the fantastic charges of Senator Bricker, he has been made the target of attacks by communists.

It would be a mistake on the basis of these assaults from extreme left and extreme right to class Dr. Graham as a middle-of-the roader. He is not a gradualist especially on such explosive subjects as the race problem, although he believes that the educative process, both in classrooms and in life itself, is the most useful means of solving the problems which harass mankind.

The chief significance of the appointment lies in its addition to the small but growing number of members of the Congress from the South who are able to think beyond selfish sectional lines.

Perhaps Senator Graham's appointment to the Senate and the kind of leadership he will give there may toughen the character and sharpen the intelligence of his fellow Southerners and of the Senate at large through demonstration of the fact that one can refuse to be a slave to bigotry and tradition and at the same time be successful in politics.

REVIVAL SPEAKER —Rev. Harry M. Kesling of Ashland, Ky., will continue the series of evangelistic services at the Third Street Church of God, preaching each night, except Saturday, through Easter Sunday. Rev. Sheldon C. Marquand Tells Story Of Banker

Popular Novelist's New Book At Library

POINT OF NO RETURN, a new novel by John Marquand, is among the new books which will be available at the Mansfield Public library Monday.

This fiction selection is the story of Charles Gray, a man midway in his banking career. The vice presidency of the bank soon will go either to him or one of his fellow workers. His ambitious wife is constantly prodding him.

A business trip to his boyhood home causes him to review his past life, especially the period which led to his father's suicide following the 1929 crash.

THERE IS NO ARMOUR, by Howard Spring, author of MY SON, MY SON is a long unhurried novel of 20th century England. It is the story of Ted Pentecost from his 12th birthday just after the turn of the century through the Second World war. The most appealing part is childhood years. Later he achieves success as a painter, the scenes move from Manchester to London and Cornwall.

WITHOUT MAGNOLIAS, by Bucklin Moon, is the winner of the George Washington Carver award. The scene is a small town in Florida, and the central characters are a negro family moving from lower to middle class existence. Their problem is to find a way past the barriers of racial prejudice.

CEREMONY OF INNOCENCE, by Elizabeth Charlotte Webster, is a South African prize novel about the havoc wrought by a girl miracle-worker in a religious community. It tells the story of how the fame of the novice Sybil, who came from England to join the Anglican convent, swept the countryside. The author aims her satire at the hypocrisy and insincerity of modern life.

THE LIFE OF ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE, by John Dickson Carr, is one detective story writer's tribute to the master in his field.

Rev. Perry to Retire As Pastor of Nazarene Church

Rev. A. H. Perry will retire from the pastorate of the Church of the Nazarene at the conclusion of the assembly on July 22, he has announced.

The church board last night made plans to call a pastor to succeed Rev. Perry, but the choice of the board must be approved by the congregation. Rev. H. S. Gallaway, general district superintendent, presided.

Coming here in 1941, Rev. Perry has seen the church membership grow from 127 to 175. The Sunday school average attendance in 1941 was 105; today's average is 167 members.

During his pastorate here, the church built a new brick parsonage at 83 Reba avenue at a cost of $17,000 and remodeled the basement of the church into Sunday school rooms to accommodate the increased attendance.

Rev. Perry said today that he is retiring because of his wife's ill health. He and Mrs. Perry will go to Des Moines, Iowa, to make their home with their son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Gene Phillips. Rev. Phillips is district superintendent for the Church of the Nazarene in the Iowa district.

Fights For Rights of Rural People

Stough Honored for Farm Bureau Work

The April issue of the Ohio Farm Bureau News pays tribute to W. E. Stough, of Springfield township, who has retired as president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Cooperative association after serving as a director of the organization for more than 20 years.

The farm magazine calls Stough "a gruff, forthright man who has spent the biggest part of his life fighting for the rights of farmers." The article added that although Stough had retired, his influence will long be felt.

In describing his work, the article tells how Stough came to his Richland county farm in 1905 He soon became a board member of the county Farm Bureau.

Stough was a member of the first board of directors of the Richland County Farm Bureau Cooperative association and later president of the board.

He was sent to the state Farm Bureau board as a trustee representing Richland, Morrow, Crawford, and Marion counties. He was elected president of the state board 15 years ago and held that position until retiring.

W. E. Stough

Stough plans to devote a large part of his time to the Farm Bureau Insurance companies now. W. N. Woods, Maumee, was elected to take his place on the Farm Bureau Cooperative board.

Union County Seeks Chicken Theft Suspect

A warrant from Union county, charging Hugh Daugherty, of Columbus, with petty larceny in the theft of $25 worth of chickens, has been filed with the sheriff's office here.

Daugherty is presently held in the county jail for the grand jury on charges of breaking and entering at a farm near Shelby when $36 worth of chickens was taken.

In the Middle Ages, the hourglass or sand-glass was generally used to keep time.

For the children of Israel shall abide many days without a king, and without a prince, and without a sacrifice, and without an image, and without an ephod, and without teraphim: Afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the Lord their God, and David their King: and shall fear the Lord and his goodness in the latter days.

Drive carefully tonight and tomorrow—and remember that the old car deserves a spring checkup.

Taft-Hartley Repeal Hits Snag

THREAT by Congressman Lesinski, of Michigan, co-sponsor of the Taft-Hartley repeal bill, that House members will be "watched" when it comes to voting on any phase of the proposed labor law revision may react in a quite unintended way among congressmen who dislike the implication that their votes can be influenced by such minority pressure.

At the start of this session of Congress it was said, in a quite confident way that the campaign promise of repeal of the T-H law could be accomplished within 30 days, but 90 days have now passed and action seems further away than ever, with a succession of occurrences which support belief that many of the restraints imposed by the present measure will be retained in whatever new labor law may finally be enacted.

As viewed by Marquis Childs, close observer of the Washington scene: "Whether the Taft-Hartley Act will come up at all at this session is an open question. . . . If the Congress were to act today on labor legislation, the strong likelihood is that the Taft-Hartley restrictions would be tightened rather than relaxed."

Whatever, if anything, is done by Congress in an effort to improve present labor laws will naturally be expected to take into account the welfare of all Americans rather than designed to serve the interests of any particular group.

Effects of Gambling Losses Related

GAMBLING LOSSES are seldom individualized to the extent that appears in an article on Page 1 of today's News-Journal, relating the pathetic story of a wife—and the mother of seven children—who is being deprived of home necessities because of her husband's gambling losses IN MANSFIELD.

Relating that her husband has lost more than $1,200 in Mansfield gambling places within the past three or four years, this woman says: "We need that money. The children need clothes . . . we are badly in debt because of his gambling, and the children are not getting the food they should have. We cannot afford to take them to a doctor when they need medical attention."

Then she asks if there is any way to recover the gambling losses—if she can sue the places where he lost the money and get any of it back.

Yes, there is a law under which gambling losses may be recovered through court action, and this has been resorted to in some instances by wives after consulting a lawyer.

The pathetic thing is that wives and innocent children are the most likely real sufferers from gambling losses—while the operators of various forms of illegal gambling rackets attain wealth, fine homes, ornate cars and luxurious living at the expense of the poor suckers who are induced to part with money needed by their families.

The circumstances related by this distraught woman are respectfully referred to Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and Chief of Police Jesse J. Schwab, upon whom principal responsibility rests for non-enforcement of anti-gambling laws in Mansfield.

Voting Machines for Huron County

NOW THAT voting machines are to be introduced into the adjoining county of Huron, by favorable action of the board of county commissioners, Richland county officials and voters will have opportunity for a close-up view of the machines in action.

The subject of substituting voting machines for pencil-marked ballots in Richland county has been discussed from time to time during the past several years, with inclination on the part of commissioners to delay action because of appearance of greater need for other expenditures.

It is quite likely, however, that use of voting machines will eventually become general, so it is merely a matter of how long the wait should be before their adoption in this county.

Cost of the 55 machines required to serve Huron county voters is given as $71,500, plus amortization charges, and it is said that the decision followed nearly a year's study by commissioners, board of election members and interested voters.

Careless Disposal of Waste Paper

A MANUFACTURER of paper goods predicts that within a decade the size of the family washing can be cut in half by replacing many common household articles made of cloth, and requiring periodic washing, with things made of paper, to be thrown away when soiled. Discovery of ways to make paper which does not disintegrate when wet opens whole new fields for the paper industry.

Thus a lightening of the washing chores of the housewife is seen. But the unqualified thanks of the public will not be earned unless there is also some increased education on the art of throwing paper away.

If the unsightly pieces of paper scattered over the ground, soaked by spring rains, hold together instead of falling apart when picked up, that will be some help. But it would be much more help to take care of the paper before it starts blowing around.

Those, if any, who keep up on such things will be interested in learning that Prince Aly Khan's divorce has been granted and that he is now free to marry Rita Hayworth—whom you may remember as having once been a popular American movie actress.

What Politicians Know Too Well.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Truman Wants Power To Control What?

WHILE the views of a large assortment of businessmen, gathered by this reporter on a trip to Ohio, Illinois and Texas, indicate a mild decline in many sectors of our economy, the President and some of his economic advisers seem to think we are still fighting inflation.

Disagreement within the President's Council of Economic Advisers seems to be swinging toward a victory for those who believe that Truman's anti-inflation program of some months ago is still appropriate to the economic scene.

Edwin G. Nourse's more realistic and conservative views have been pushed aside by Messrs. Leon H. Keyserling and John D. Clark. The real issue seems to be that Nourse believes the President's council should be an independent means of giving independent information and advice to the President.

The Keyserling-Clark view seems to be that after the President decides, for political or other reasons, that certain measures should be taken, the council should provide him with plausible arguments for his decision.

And that is not all. The Keyserling-Clark view is that the economic system can be guided and controlled to fit any trend that is deemed politically advantageous to the administration.

In other words, that if a continued inflation is desirable, the government should throw the inflation switch. If, later on, a little deflation seems needed, the switch should be turned to that.

In short, that these forces can not only be controlled, but that they can be used to fit the exigencies of politics. And what is more important, that they can be adjusted with exact timing. This is a dangerous delusion.

* * *

Can't Coast Uphill.

A SERIOUS part of this delusion is that it seems to be assumed that to fight deflation it is merely necessary to turn inflation controls in the opposite direction.

This theory overlooks the fact that while you can put on brakes to slow a car, you cannot accelerate a car by taking off the brakes—unless you are going down hill.

And if we liken natural economic forces to a road with ups and downs, we are never going down a hill when we want to accelerate. On the level or on the up-grade it takes power, not merely the releasing of brakes.

But while Truman still wants power to control inflation and still is determined to raise taxes, he is now willing to admit that he would like to have stand-by power to control deflation.

In short, the President tells Congress to give him a lot of powers—powers for anything—brakes, accelerator, steering gear, etc. This means that he would like to be a sort of Pontifex Maximus with plenary authority.

The trouble is that with all these powers he would still be short on information. Certainly, this is shown by the facts that parts of his administration do not seem to know what other parts are doing.

Or they are acting upon different sorts of information. The treasury, for example, is getting up a campaign to sell savings bonds in May. This is supposed to be anti-inflationary. However, if we are on a gentle down-grade—and we seem to be—we should be telling the public to spend more and save less.

The economic system can survive this tinkering, of course. But it is a bit confusing to a public which pays plenty of taxes to provide proper information for its government.

Retreat Is Impossible

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON. — Nobody is throwing hats in air over the Atlantic Pact, or showing signs of elation.

It is rather a grim business, at best. It has none of the inspiration that might accompany an offensive for peace, but is on the contrary, defensive, negative, and thus a reminder of war rather than peace. Consequently, the natural effect is one of depression.

It was by accident, and not design, that the pact was signed just two days before the anniversary of our entrance into the First World war and on that anniversary, observed as Army day, the troops as usual marched down Capitol Hill and across the city in parade.

But this was symbolic, the crowds that watched manifested no exuberance. They reflected an atmosphere of concern which the pact, itself, signifies.

We have seen too many parades in recent years, and we are beginning to see the ghosts that march along with the smart-stepping young men.

Our people, by contrast, did get excited over the United Nations and its creation, for that was hope personified. It perhaps was oversold, to borrow the salesman's phrase, but the people wanted so much to belive in it and see it work. We are in the letdown stage from hopes raised too high, though no higher than we were entitled to have them raised.

* * *

No Turning Back Now.

EVENTS, themselves marching relentlessly in something like military precision, have brought us to this day and hour. They culminated in the signing of the pact and undoubtedly that will end in ratification in due time by the Senate.

It is too late to turn back, for every step has led to this result, and there is no retracing now. Whether they were all in the right direction, or all in the wrong direction, or mixed, history only can tell, and not too many of us will be around for that.

The great danger at this time is resignation. The thing to do is not to fold the hands, but to make the most of the accomplished fact, to turn it, if possible, into the best that can be made of it in the interest of peace.

We have got to go somewhere from here, and it should be forward, not backward. We have been told that success of the pact depends upon the spirit in which we accept it, and that it must be accepted in the spirit of peace. That is more important than might appear at the first glance.

Among courses recently offered in that direction is the project sponsored by former Justice Owen Roberts of the Supreme Court and a distinguished group of leaders to transform this pact into a real Atlantic union of the democracies from which there might be built up in time a world union or world government.

Their idea is that this, of itself, would be a real union, a world government in miniature, to which the nations included would yield up some part of their sovereignty.

This project is being presented to Congress for approval as a complement to the Atlantic Pact.

While this seems a compromise, half a loaf, it does look forward, even if it looks forward again from where we were at San Francisco four years ago, a sort of beginning again. But beginning again is better than standing still.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Tuesday, April 9, 1929

An expert started work repairing clock on top of court house.

Earl McFarland resigned as principal of East Mansfield school.

Gambling devices seized in raids were destroyed in basement of municipal building.

Mansfield's need for more homes was discussed at meeting of Lions club, held at Southern hotel.

Eight-year-old Alonzo Lindsey, 112 Lily street, was injured when struck by auto.

Musical comedy, "The Love Pirate", was presented at Senior high school auditorium by American Legion cast.

Roscoe Dickson spoke at meeting of Mansfield Real Estate Board held at Leland hotel.

Mrs. Frank May, Sturges avenue, was injured by fall from ladder while cleaning house.

As Others See It

One Viewpoint.

Modern civilization is the process which produces more and more people who can read and less and less worth reading.—Kansas City Star.

Cheerful Thought.

If the cost of a new car is slashed from $3,000 to $2,700 think what it means to the budget of the average family, which now can buy ten for the price of nine.—Kansas City Star.

Dave Boone Says:

IN AKRON a new church is so determined to reach the people and get its message across clearly that it has a soundproof room for parents with young children, a bottle-warming department and scores of loud-speakers so that the sermon can be heard in any part of the edifice.

* * *

It is also equipped with earphones for the deaf. Well, with all the agencies that hamper spiritual things fully equipped for their jobs, it is good to hear of a church taking advantage of modern facilities.

* * *

There is no excuse for a modern church, big or small, not using amplifiers. Fifty per cent of the people have some hearing impediment and have been going to church for years without having any clear idea what the pastor was saying.

* * *

All millions of folks know about the sermons and announcements is what they read in the papers. Three cheers for Akron!

As Cerf Tells It

A distinguished bishop visited the home of the Bob Considines recently and inquired politely of the eight-year-old heir to the Considine millions, "Son, I trust that you say your prayers every night." "I don't have to," Considine jr., assured him. "My mother says them for me." "Indeed," said the bishop. "And just what does she say?" "Thank God you're in bed," was the answer.

ODD FACT

Summary of Week's Happenings

'Business Is Good,' Outlook Favorable

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

BUSINESS and industry ended the first quarter of 1949 with a few postwar adjustment scars, but otherwise in fine fettle.

Demand for goods and services showed improvement after a small but persistent decline. Prices of commodities and industrial materials appear in an area of stabilization after several months of downward adjustments.

Unemployment has reversed its trend after reaching the highest peak in several years. An increase in government spending for armament more than offsets a drop in private spending.

A new Marshall plan appears certain to replace the old one. This type of spending has been a powerful prop in keeping the national economy in high gear during the past year.

Job Rights and Service.

The labor department corrects in a report an erroneous impression that men entering the armed service have to be drafted to have any rights to their old jobs.

Men who enlist or reservists who go back on active duty still retain certain re-employment rights under the Selective Service Act, the federal agency says.

The bureau of labor statistics has prepared an "Occupational Outlook Handbook" which surveys national employment opportunities in 454 pages. It says, for instance, that it may be pretty hard during the next few years to get a job as an airplane pilot, an airline hostess, a newspaper reporter, a detective, or a diesel mechanic.

Annual Survey.

On the other hand, the book says, the outlook is much brighter for prospective bricklayers, doctors, auto mechanics, librarians, stenographers and foundry workers.

The book which will be revised annually, surveys 288 general occupations. It is for use by veterans' advisory and guidance officers and has been adopted for official use in all other government agencies which give counseling service.

At Home

Time of Waiting.

In a very literal sense, the United States became the diplomatic center of the world last week. It will remain that until the answers are in on two very vital questions.

In Washington, the Senate soon is to open hearings on the newly-signed North Atlantic pact. Unless the Senate ratifies it by a two-thirds vote, the treaty is little more than a scrap of paper—a fact recognized on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

In New York, where the United Nations General Assembly is in session, the question is how far will the Soviet Union press its campaign against the defensive alliance. Verbal hostility was anticipated. It may even hasten ratification of the pact by the 12 signatory powers.

* * *

Slow Motion.

Administration leaders told Congress last week to complete action "one way or another" on the extensive Truman program or face the possibility of a special session this summer.

Adjournment is scheduled for July 31 but the lawmakers will have to step up their pace to finish by that time. Sen. Scott Lucas (D-La), Senate majority leader, said that if the lag continues he would ask the President to keep Congress working all summer and fall.

The President's legislative program has been making slow progress. And directly ahead is the big job of stop-communism legislation—foreign aid and the Atlantic pact to be followed by a proposal of arms for America's partners in the security alliance.

* * *

Let the People Speak.

Hundreds of prominent U. S. private citizens have banded together to fight for sweeping changes in the organization and operation of the federal government.

The committee is headed by Dr. Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple University. Johnson said he accepted the chairmanship at the personal request of former President Herbert Hoover, whose commission has submitted to Congress recommendations for changes in federal government.

* * *

Shaky White House.

A congressional committee—20 strong—scrutinized the vacant and decrepit White House last week from top to bottom.

Interior walls of the 133-year-old mansion of the presidents had been stripped to show the damage and wear of decades. The great rooms, without their graceful furniture and tapestries, were gaunt and bare. The sag of century-old beams was revealed by cracked plaster. All variation from plumb was plainly marked.

Even more revealing were slipshod repairs. Main support timbers had been pierced repeatedly for pipe and wire conduits when plumbing and electricity were installed.

* * *

Slumps Both Ways.

American marriages have slumped during the past two years, the government reports, and divorces as well.

The Public Health Service estimates there were 415,000 divorces last year, compared with some 474,000 in 1947, and 610,000 in the peak year of 1946.

But there were only 1,815,000 marriages in 1948, compared with 1,991,878 the previous year and more than 2,000,000 in 1946.

Abroad

Look to the North.

The armed forces of Canada and the United States are exchanging officers to work on mutual defense problems.

Signatures of the two nations last week on the North Atlantic pact, joining them with 10 other countries in a defensive alliance against aggression, actually is a reaffirmation of a mutual nine-year-old defense treaty. Canada and the U. S. set up a Joint Defense Board in 1940.

The Canadian-U. S. agreement, like the new North Atlantic pact, mentions no names of possible aggressor nations. Attention is focused, however, on the north and its polar wastes and the North Atlantic and the North Pacific.

Canada's ground forces are small, probably about 25,000, but uniquely fitted to defend the vast frontier.

* * *

Victory for Victor.

A French court has ruled that Victor Kravchenko, expatriate Russian author of "I Chose Freedom" was libelled in the pro-communist newspaper Les Lettres Francaises.

The court ordered Claude Morgan, editor and published, to pay costs of the eight weeks' trial, estimated at $18,000, fined him $300, and awarded Kravchenko $150 damages.

It also ordered Morgan to print the court decision on his front page.

The fine is significant because the court thus ruled he also had committed an offense against the state.

The defense said it would appeal the decision.

In Short

Signed: By Israel and Trans-Jordan, a one-year armistice, virtually ending the Palestine war.

Saved: By Americans during 1948, according to the Securities and Exchange Commission, $4,900,000,000 in "liquid savings"—bank accounts, government bonds and insurance.

Estimated: By Sen. Millard Tydings (D-Md), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, that the cold war is costing the United States at least 10 billion dollars a year.

Shipped: By Britain, jet airplane engines to Russia until late in 1947 when further requests were turned down.

Quotes

Charles F. Kettering, General Motors research director and national cancer drive chairman: "We know that among us alive today are six million Americans marked for cancer death—but who need not die—who can be saved with present (medical) techniques."

Jiri Hronek, Czech delegate to the recent "World Peace" conference in New York: "I wouldn't live in this country even if invited. Czechoslovakia has a better and more genuine democracy."

Farmer's Diary

Challenge To Churches

By CALVIN A. BYERS

"I DOUBT if we have fully recognized one of the greatest sins against the human race—the destruction of one of the basic resources of the family of man," says Rev. Gene Wetherell, of the Bible College of Missouri at Columbia. "To permit an eating away of our soil — that is immoral. We are cheating unborn generations and we are cheating ourselves."

According to Wetherell, two groups are hardest to reach — (1) the greedy grasping people who are interested only in their own pocketbooks and do not care what they do to basic resources of America; (2) the marginal farmer, whose soil is already depleted so that he lacks a hopeful outlook. "He keeps on farming as Grandpappy farmed, and he keeps on starving to death."

For these two groups, Wetherell thinks the Church bears a special responsibility. And in Missouri the Bible College and State Agricultural College have the united to do something about it. They aim to change three conditions:

(1) When soil erodes the rural church goes down. Soon the community cannot support a church and school.

(2) Denominational prejudice and competition makes it a fact that three or four churches are established, where one would do the work better. Mexico, Missouri, has the Presbyterian church on one corner of an intersection, the Methodist on another and the Baptist church on a third. There is the classic story that when the Presbyterians sang Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown? the Methodists answer was, No, Not One, and the Baptists gleefully chimed in, Oh, It Will Be Glory For Me.

(3) Colleges and seminaries by-pass the country church. Too many student ministers use the country church as a migrant sharecropper to help themselves land a better living in the cities. Fine country boys go to college and never return to the land that should be their home.

The Bible College of Missouri is non-denominational. It has Protestants, Catholics and Jews in its classes. It is supported by churches and business men, not by the state.

But it cooperates with the State Agricultural college on a course of training that takes five years.

The first four years lead to a bachelor of science degree in agriculture, and the fifth year is a course in religion that takes the cream of a seminary course and equips a young man to serve a rural community. He keeps his own denomination.

Rural Missouri churches are also being encouraged to provide small acreages of 10,15 or 25 acres and home for their ministers, so that his whole time and personality can be given to leadership in a truly rural way of life.

"To him, religion is something more than what happens within the four walls of the church. He goes forward teaching people to love the soil and to build a good life upon it."

Your Greatest Peril

By ELSIE ROBINSON

THERE are many perils endangering human life but there is no peril so constant or corrupting as the peril of change. Yet we rarely realize that change is a peril at all.

There is nothing human beings so dread as a change which alters their fate or a change which has power over the body or soul, which may alter the whole trend of their being.

Yet from childhood on we are subject to change.

From childhood on we are forced to change and forced to make decisions which will change us.

These decisions are difficult, dangerous and uncomfortable but they are the best things that could possibly happen to us.

They force us out of old ruts.

They make us adapt ourselves to new ways and conditions.

They make us adopt new ideas.

They alter our viewpoints from day to day.

Whether we like it or not, we are born with each sunrise and die with each sunset.

We are never allowed to live in the same pattern for the inexorable rule of change is upon us and we must change every hour.

Look at your own life—how you've peeved whenever you had to make a radical change in home or job or environment. One would think you were losing your identity and yet you were taking on a new identity. You were broadening yourself with each new change. You were altering and deepening yourself.

It wasn't a comfortable process or one you would have chosen but it was a blessed process and saved you from a living death.

The only changeless person is a zombie. Zombies are the living dead. They refuse change and pay the consequences.

Don't be a zombie!

Claims Collective Security Old Aim Sought By Maxim Litvinov

DUNNO WHY the Russians protest so bitterly against the Atlantic Pact. It's only a matter of Collective Security, an idea which (in the 1930s) the loudest proponent was Maxim Litvinov.

The Russians will simply have to learn to face pacts.

"Dear Mr. W.," memos Ray Doyle, "I'm still retching at the way Life mag slobbered kisses all over Franco's fat face. Life pinches Torture Boy's cheeks while apologizing that although (I now quote) 'El Caudillo has tortured and executed a great many people . . . he has never been a strutting, jut-jawed character in the Mussolini mold.'

Elsa Maxwell, who has scowled and criticized "peephole gossip columns" had this to report in her April 4th peephole: "But she (Ingrid Bergman) has apparently fallen in love either with Roberto Rossellini personally or with Roberto as a director . . ."

Ingrid is still a married woman and Elsa is still a clumsy peepholer.

Jose Curbelo has seen "Body and Soul," "The Set Up" and "Champion" (all films about prizefighters) and begged off seeing another about the ring.

"I've seen so many fight films lately," he groaned, "I have a cauliflower rear."

Last night in L'Aiglon they were cutting up a light-headed chorus girl. "I hear she's been to a psychiatrist," said one of her best false friends. "I wonder why?"

"I think," informed Leonard Hicks, "to have her mind removed."

Martin Ragaway cut his finger while trying to put on a new typewriter ribbon at his Universal Studio desk. He dashed to a nearby hospital to have it cauterized. Filling out the report, the medico inquired: "What's your job at the studio?"

"I'm a writer," said Martin.

"A writer?" said the doc, looking up. "This business is getting more dangerous all the time!"

Will Rogers was once seated next to a dowager at a dinner. She kept attacking "those foreigners," and he kept squelching her.

"I don't understand," she finally said, "why they ever invited anyone like you here."

"I can't understand it, either," snapped Rogers, "unless L was the only one they could find who would sit next to you!"

At the Stork club a talkative woman was saying that a woman who visited her had bad manners. "If she yawned once while I was talking to her, she yawned a dozen times."

"Perhaps," interrupted her husband, "she wasn't yawning. Maybe she wanted to say something."

'Philosopher' Offers Advice To Young Man On How to Treat Boss

To the poor man's philosopher:

"Dear Sir, will you help a young man who is trying to rise in the world? How can I get my boss to know me better so I can ask him for a raise?

(signed) Ambitious

CERTAINLY, my boy, I will try to advise you. It is refreshing indeed to find anybody still interested in that fine old vanishing American art—buttering up the boss. Too many people today have the idea that "boss" is just another four-letter word.

But I think you are approaching the problem in the wrong way. You don't want your boss to know you better—you may never get a raise then. What you want is for you yourself to get to know the boss better.

Bosses, after all, are people. They want to be understood, appreciated, yes—even liked. But they are wary because they know the men under them often regard them only as a human jackpot.

So, young man, the first thing to do is to avoid looking at your boss as if he were a cash register.

Try to put him at his ease. Don't let him feel too self-conscious around you. If he tells a joke, laugh. If he tells the same joke the next day—laugh again. Try, when possible, to get him to tell his jokes after you have had your lunch. Laughter on an empty stomach sounds hollow and may make him suspicious.

There is another important point. If he tells a joke to a group of employes, don't be the first or the last one to laugh. Bosses always make a disturbing mental note about people who get the point too soon or too late. They are likely to figure the first man is trying to get his job, and the last one is too dumb to be worth his wages.

By now you will have won the confidence of your boss. The next step is to give him what he needs—self-confidence.

Don't sit around waiting for him to come up and give you a good word. He needs a good word himself. He wants to know that you appreciate his own virtues more than he wants to praise your virtues.

Stroll into his private office sometime, give him a friendly slap on the back and say:

"Boss, I just want you to know that everybody around the plant has been noticing the swell job you're doing. Keep it up."

Don't make a special point of it. Do it in an offhand way—as if the thought had just crossed your mind. You'll be amazed at how a simple act of kindness like this will win his heart.

It would be a mistake to presume too soon on this new warm feeling of fellowship between you. Don't try to reach for his pocketbook too soon. After hooking a fish there is still the problem of getting it into the boat.

Let a year or two pass—they go quickly these days. By then he will be calling you by your first name, if you are still on the payroll. He will begin to notice the signs of faithful gray spreading at your temples, and the idea will suddenly come to him that here is a man that ought to be getting more money.

And that is the time to put another idea into his mind—that the money has to come from him.

Do it in a light carefree way. You might, for example, come to work bare-footed some morning. If he happens to notice it, just laugh and say:

"Well, boss, you know things are getting so expensive a man has to begin cutting down on the luxuries."

And the chances are he'll give you a raise that very day. Or—at the very least—he'll come in the next day carrying a pair of his own second-hand shoes for you.

In either case you'll know he has you in mind.

More Rental Properties Controlled

Law Sets Up New Restrictions

Mansfield landlords were warned today that many of their rental properties previously not under control by the federal rent laws are now subject to the new rent law's regulations.

In issuing the warning, George H. Blecker, area rent control director, pointed out much of the rental property decontrolled in the past has been "recontrolled."

Property which was decontrolled because it was not rented for any 24-month period between Feb. 1, 1945 and March 30, 1948, is now under conrtol again, Blecker said. Since many of these homes were never under control, owners have until April 30 to register them, he added.

Also "recontrolled" are accommodations decontrolled because of a 1947 lease terminated prior to April 1, 1948, Blecker declared. These housing units must be re-registered by April 15.

Blecker advised that if there is any doubt in the minds of landlords about a particular pice of property, to contact the area rent office 48 ½West Second street, or phone 2724-6.

The office will help any rental property owner to make out his registration certificate and advice him of the rents allowed on his property, Blecker said.

Lead P-TA Discussion

Teachers, Parents Meet At Appleseed

Teachers of the Johnny Appleseed junior high school led a provocative discussion on "Some Problems of teachers at Appleseed" for members of the P-TA when they met at the school Thursday night.

Robert Y. Davis, fifth vice president of the Ohio Congress of Parents of Teachers and radio chairman of that group, discussed the subject, "General Classification of Parents."

Miss Muriel Voli took the topic, "How Parents Should Keep Contact with the School." Encil McNabb discussed the subject," Are Parents Allowing Children Too Much Freedom?" and Miss Margaret wheeler talked about the Theme, "Are Parents Teaching Children Enough Responsibility?"

The nominating committee reported, during the brief business period, the slate of officers for next year. They include: Louis Schaefer, president; Mrs. Carl Lang, first vice president; Mrs. Henry Stiles, second vice president, Miss Maryann Russell, secretary, and Walter Wixon, treasurer.

The meeting on May 19 will be family night and a covered-dish supper will be served the group in the school cafeteria.

Rotarians to Get Data On Foundation

Explanation of the formation and operation of the Richland County Foundation will be given at next Tuesday's meeting of the Rotary club, to be held at the Mansfield-Leland hotel at 11:45 a. m.

D. Osborne Meese, who has been closely associated with the work of the Foundation since its organization, will be the program chairman.

Reds Take Stand On Colonies

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(INS)—Andrei Gromyko is expected to make a strong bid today for Russian participation in eventual control of Italy's former African colonies.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister is slated to tell the United Nations Political committee where the Kremlin stands on the matter of these strategic areas.

The 58-nation committee has already heard the American, British and French views on the problem.

WANTS TRUSTEESHIP

Gromyko reportedly will call on the Political committee to assign the U.N. Trusteeship council as chief guardian and supervisor of the former Italian colonies. Under such a scheme, Russia could assure for herself participation in Mediterranean colonial administration.

In presenting the British viewpoint, Hector McNeil a few days ago gave advance notice to the Political committee that Britain will oppose any "multiple trusteeship" system over strategic areas like the Cyrenaica. On that point, McNeil asked for a British administration.

Sentiment is strong among the Latin-American bloc for restoring the former colonies as much as possible to Italy. Italian Foreign Minister Count Sforza is planning to voice Italy's viewpoint. The committee granted him the right to participate in the discussions without vote.

Italy's prospects for early membership in the U.N. faded considerably when another Soviet weto in the Security council last night underlined the fact that the deadlock on some fourteen applications remains unbroken.

Board Gets Complaint On Teacher

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus board of education members are studying a formal complaint presented them by 10 eastside residents against Miss Ione Hertzer, principal at Crawford grade school here.

The complainants, all women, presented the written complaint, accusing Miss Hertzer, a veteran teacher, of "incompetence and neglect," after board members had informed the group that no consideration would be given any charges unless they were put in writing.

The women had appeared before the board at its February meeting and charged Miss Hertzer with failure to cooperate with the school's Parent-Teacher association and neglect to provide proper supervision for playground activities.

At that time Miss Hertzer refuted the charges and School Supt. D. C. Baer pointed out the matters on which the complaints had been based already had been corrected.

Rites Slated For Monday

LOUDONVILLE—Services for Mrs. Daisy Edna Heyde, sister of Charles F. Kettering, who died at Memorial hospital, New York City Friday, will be held Monday in Loudonville.

Rites will be conducted at the Methodist church, of which Mrs. Heyde was a member, at 2 p. m. by Rev. S. P. Ozmun, church pastor and Rev. Thomas Cromwell, former pastor. Burial will be in the Loudonville cemetery.

Arrangements are in charge of the Banks funeral home. Friends may call at the home until noon Monday when the body will be taken to the church.

Besides her brother, Charles F. Kettering, Mrs. Heyde is survived by another brother, Adam Kettering of Ashland; a daughter, Mrs. Francis Long of near Loudonville; and three grandchildren.

Participate In Contest

Members of the girls' glee club of Springfield township high school left this morning for Bascom, near Fostoria, where they will compete in the northeastern district music contest being held today for secondary schools.

The group left by bus and were accompanied by Herbert Krichbaum music teacher. Jo Ann DiSanze is pianist for the group.

BANDIT'S SHIELD—Little Ian Erlson, 5, shown above with his mother, escaped injury on a Vancouver, B. C., street when police shot a bandit who carried the lad as a shield. Police Officer Cecil Paul dropped the bandit with one shot in the head as he fled after robbing the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The slain gunman wounded two bank employes before scooping up the child and running.

Achievement Day Scheduled April 19

Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer and Mrs. Rebecca Olds, of Middlefield, will be the principal speakers for the annual "Achievement day" of the Richland county home demonstration program, Miss Mabel Spray, home demonstration agent, announced yesterday.

The program will be held in the Presbyterian church in Lexington April 19.

Judge Cramer has chosen as his subject, "Legal Problems Facing the Family." Mrs. Olds who was in Holland and France in 1947 will speak on farm homes visited in those countries, telling of her observations.

She was the Ohio delegate to the meeting of the Associated Country Women of the World, held at Amsterdam.

Miss Spray will give a summary of the activities of the home demonstration program during the past year.

Mrs. Ben Valentine will give a reading. Group singing is on the program.

Miss Spray said anyone wishing to have luncheon at the church must purchase a ticket by Tuesday at the extension office in the courthouse or from a home council member.

Stingel Heads County Teachers

L. C. Stingel, superintendent of schools at Ontario, has been elected to head the Richland County Teachers association for next school year. He succeeds Howard L. Hofacre, superintendent at Lexington.

Named vice president was W. S. Barger, superintendent at Lucas, replacing M. J. Breinich, teacher at Ontario.

Chosen secretary was Mrs. Kathleen Casad, teacher succeeding Miss Esther Smith, teacher at Madison, at Ontario, while Boyd Robinson, county superintendent of schools, was re-elected treasurer.

Clear Fork Pump Starts

Machinery Begins Actual Job Today

The first portion of the Clear Fork project to go into actual use began working for the city today.

One of the big pumps from the Maxwell station was moved to the new high-light station on Cook road.

A test run was made shortly after the pump and motor were connected, and the pump was scheduled to go on regular duty today.

Water level was maintained in Woodland reservoir with the two pumps remaining in the Maxwell station. Eventually they will be moved to the new station and Maxwell will be abandoned.

Workmen began moving the pump at 6 a. m. Friday and the job was completed Friday night, Mayor Roy Vaughn said. A period of low water consumption was chosen for moving the pump.

Commissioners OK Survey of Ditch

County commissioners yesterday authorized County Engineer Walter E. Rusk to prepare a survey and plans for improvements to a tributary in Sharon and Sandusky townships of the Paramore creek. The tributary also is known as the Arter ditch.

Commissioners ordered the survey at a public hearing at their office. The proposal calls for deepening, straightening and widening of the ditch, which is approximately 5,000 feet long.

Denies He Shot Sister

a good housekeeper and kept her children 'spotless'.

The Campbells' six-month-old baby, Letha Gay, was asleep in her crib at the time of the shooting. She was removed to the Maidens home after the tragedy while her father joined the posse searching for Barnett.

Barnett Friday morning had entered the Maidens' home and picked up a .22 caliber rifle from a cupboard, Maidens said.

Eugene Maidens, 30, insurance man working out of a Findlay office, ordered Barnett to put it back. Maidens said Barnett emptied the shells in the magazine, took another full box of cartridges, then left. Campbell also had a similar type rifle which Barnett evidently used in the slaying and took with him on his flight to the woods, officers said.

The Campbells had moved into the Maidens' tenant house three years ago.

The body of the shooting victim was removed to the Craven funeral home in Mt. Gilead where services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday with Rev. Russell Bohner, pastor of the Mt. Gilead Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be in Iberia cemetery.

Surviving in addition to her husband, brother, and children, are her parents, John Reed Barnett of Waverly, W. Va., and Mrs. Leona Barnett of Paris, O.; a sister Iantha Barnett of Salem, and her grandmothers, Mrs. Letha McAfee, of Middle, O., and Mrs. Rachael Joy of Waverly, W. Va.

Older residents of the Iberia community, which is about 22 miles southwest of Mansfield, said the slaying was the first in that community in their memory.

Workers Go Back Monday

150 Employes Idle 47 Days

By CATHERINE RORICK

GALION — The 47-day strike at the Hercules Steel Products corporation came to an end at 4 p. m., yesterday when a settlement was reached between management and the International Association of Machinists' union.

The strike which had idled some 150 workers was called by the union on the morning of Feb. 21, after failure to reach an agreement in the adjustment of piecework rates.

Normal operations will be resumed at the factory on Sherman street next Thursday. Maintenance men will go back to work Monday to prepare the plant for operation, while the shipping department will start work Tuesday.

James Nicholson of Toledo, president of the Nicholson Concrete company, was instrumental in bringing about the settlement of the strike. He had this formal statement to announce at the conclusion of negotiations which were held Friday at Hotel Talbott:

"Based upon the settlement advanced by James Nicholson of Toledo, and accepted by union and company officials, and ratified by union membership, the Hercules Steel Products Corporation strike came to an end today."

Maintenance men will go back to work Monday, and shipping department employes Tuesday.

SOME RATES REVISED

Terms of the settlement included revision of certain rates, and provided for continued study of methods and piece-work rates.

Nicholson's statement was the only one released to the press at the conclusion of negotiations. He is designer of a new concrete hauling body which the Hercules Steel Products Corporation makes.

It was through Nicholson's efforts that a 34-day strike at the Medusa Company which covered four states was settled. His concrete company at Toledo was one of Medusa's biggest customers. He came to Galion to enter conferences Thursday afternoon.

The Hercules Steel Products corporation manufactures steel grave vaults, dump bodies, hoists and coal chutes in addition to a cement mixer.

Meanwhile, announcement was made that negotiations are continuing between management of the Central Ohio Steel Products company and the International Association of Machinists' union where another strike has existed since March 10. Dispute at this plant involved an adjustment of piece-work rates. Another 150 men have been idled by the strike at this plant.

Taxes Due Monday

With Monday's 4 p. m. deadline for paying first-half personal property taxes only two days away County Treasurer Charles C. Payne reported that $179,078 in general and $130,862 in classified has been paid.

The collection for Friday totaled $13,414 in general and $2,072 in classified, Payne said.

The year's collection is expected to run higher than last year, but that won't be known positively until after the second-half payments are made in the fall County Auditor Norman L.

Pushing the collection up are higher property valuation, higher tax rates, due principally to bond issues and increased dividends in 1948 over 1947. The dividends boast the collection of classified personal property taxes.

ASKS ANNULMENT

Dempsey Skiles, 191 Park avenue east, vs. Loraine Skiles, Stone road. Plaintiff says a marriage ceremony was performed for them on Sept. 6, 1948, at Ashland, and that at the time the defendant had a husband from whom she had not been divorced, unknown to plaintiff until Feb. 10, 1949. He asks that the pretended marriage be annulled.

Richland Teachers Back Changes In State Tax System

The Richland County Teachers association has endorsed and will support legislative approval of the Guthrie bill, Howard L. Hofacre, association president, announced today. The bill would revise the state sales tax and convert it to a three per cent gross receipts tax.

Hofacre, superintendent of Lexington schools, said a resolution urging passage of the Guthrie bill was adopted by the association at a meeting held Wednesday. Copies of the resolution are being sent to members of the legislature.

In addition to eliminating much of the $10 million annual cost of administering the present tax, the bill would produce an estimated $50 million more revenue per year, according to Hofacre. This money would be used for public schools, child welfare and health services, mental institutions, old age pensions, and state employe salaries.

The Guthrie bill also would do away with the use of tax stamps. The additional revenue passed would make it unnecessary for Ohio to enact a new tax or raise present taxes to provide for present needs, Hofacre said.

The two couples left early this week for a vacation trip through Kentucky and Tennessee.

Dickerson is president and general manager of Mansfield Frosted Foods, Inc., and president of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce.

Horoscope

For Sunday, April 10

SUNDAY'S astrological forecast is a notably inert and negative one, in which the spirits and energies may be low and static, with little incentive to take active part in any sort of duties, responsibility or more urgent obligations. Under such lackadaisical state of energy and ambition, it would be most beneficial and profitabit to make it a day of sabbatical relaxation with concentration on the physical wellbeing.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find it to their advantage to let things ride and take heed of lagging situations and perhaps tired or shirking energies, or physical indispositions. Major affairs may be blocked or run into snags, limitations, obstacles, therefore it would be an asset to build up the energies, or mend broken fences for future upbuilding. Safeguard health, job.

A child born on this day may be disinclined for active operations being serious, reflective and studious rather than dynamic in its urges. Early supervision of lowered vitality could give impetus to its static approach.

Madison's Bader Blanks Lucas on Two Hits, 13 to 0

Lemon, Papish Give Only 4 Hits In Tribe Win

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

DAVE WENTZ, who won honorable mention on the all-Ohio team at Senior high school three years ago, is playing football today. . . . Wentz is second string center on the "Bobwhites" who meet the "Greencats" in an Ohio U. spring football game in Athens . . . Wentz will be a soph next fall . . . Soap Box Derby officials at the national finals in Akron reserve the right to remove the wheels on all competing cars and furinsh the contestants with new wheels free of charge. . . These wheels would all be broken in evenly to give all racers an equal chance . . . Massillon high school athletes will participate in 29 spring sport contests in baseball, track and golf after the spring football game, April 22 . . . Harry Mehock has received a Mansfield Relays entrant inquiry from a junior high school in Charleston, W. Va. . . . Lofton Fuqua, Friendly House boxer, has won seven straight fights . . . His only defeat was in the Senior high school ring tournament in 1948.

★

STARTING PITCHERS for the 1949 World Series: Dobson for Boston and Branca for Brooklyn . . . That's what Bill Fay predicts in the latest issue of Collier's magazine . . . His choices (in order): American league—Boston, Cleveland, New York, Philadelphia, Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago and Washington; National league — Brooklyn, Boston, Pittsburgh, New York, St. Louis, Chicago, Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

★

ABOUT CLEVELAND Fay says: "This time last spring, Cleveland fans were hoping their Indians could outscramble the Tigers for third place. There was no reason to suspect, then, that the Indian regulars—individually and simultaneously—would have their greatest years in the majors. That's how pennants are won—by putting together the best years of key men. Conversely, that's how pennants are lost." . . . Fay goes on to say the averages will pull the Indians down and predicts that Bob Feller will be the No. 1 Tribesman.

Lucas School Honors Cage, Ball Players

LUCAS — Thirty Lucas high school athletes were awarded letters Friday night at "family night" activities in the school.

Mansfield Track Coach Harry Mehock spoke briefly and John Ditwiler acted as master of ceremonies following the "potluck" dinner.

Coach W. S. Barger made the presentations after a few words of praise and prophesy. He also presented members of his squads who did not receive letters this year.

Ten boys got varisty basketball letters: Bud Baughman, Don Smith, Bob Zody, Bob Harvey, Chuch Doggett, Don Hawkins, Howard Brubaker, Joe Harris, Richard Orewiler and Jack Stephenson. Ten others got reserve letters: Paul Hawkins, Bud Barr, Bob Grover, Roy Fife, Bill Harvey, Floyd Van Meter, Art Chambers, Joe Fanello, Bob Switzer and Jerry Niswander.

Some of these squad members got baseball letters and these four additional baseball players were rewarded: Bob Berger, Richard Berger, Gerald Kline and Paul Culler.

Stanley Keiser and Glenn Shindeldecker received varsity letters marked with "m" for managers. Four girls received varsity letters marked with megaphones for their cheer leading work during the basketball season: Shirley Stake, Carol Lee, Janet Rummel and Pat Thompson.

Rams Pound Two Homers In Barrage

By CHARLEY STINE

LUCAS — Madison high school erased the question mark from its baseball team here yesterday as it drove base hits to the far reaches of the diamond to smother Lucas, 13-0.

The Rams proved that they have the batting power to hold up under stiff competition as they pounded out 12 clean hits, including two home runs. Larry Secrist and Jack Bosh got the four-ply wallops, and Fred Durig, who hit the longest ball of the day, was called out after circling the bases for failing to touch second.

ONE TO THIRD

Meanwhile Dutch Bader, Madison's ace moundsman, was holding Lucas to two hits, both of them by Catcher Chuck Doggett. No man reached third until Doggett tripled in the seventh inning, and only one other man got as far as second. Bader fanned 12, the same number as in the opening game against Galion Monday.

Coach Blaine Dowler had originally planned to give Gene Yohn the starting chance but switched to Bader when Yohn was sick and missed school.

Although tagging the ball well all through the game, Madison confined its crushing blows to a pair of six-run outbursts in the third and sixth innings.

The Rams got their first in the top of the opening frame on a long double by Bader and single by Gene Riblet, who was promoted to the clean-up spot.

CHELSKI SWITCHES

Ed Chelski, weak on curve-ball pitching, took the pre-game suggestion of Coach Dowler to "try batting left-handed some time" and got two for four. He had never before swung from the port side.

Dowler announced before the game that Pitcher Tim Nedro had been removed from the baseball roster.

Shelby Slates Pin Tourneys

SHELBY — Two tournaments will get under way today at the Reynolds Recreation Bowling alleys and will continue for seven days until May 15.

A doubles tournament "Handicap Partners" for two men, two women or a man and woman with a handicap based on 80 per cent of the difference between the bowlers average and 200 and a singles tourney in Class A or B determined by the bowling average will make up the events.

In the singles the dividing line for the men will be 165 and for the women 125.

Galion Shooters Win Two Matches

The Galion Junior rifle team defeated Gasco in both ends of a double-header match last night at the Gasco range. Galion won the first 474-459 and the second, 459-413.

ALL STAR GAME—BROOKLYN—TUESDAY, JULY 12, 1949

Three Moose Loop Bowlers Hit Honor Roll Bracket

The Moose league broke into the top bracket of last night's bowling on a trio of honor roll scores posted by Orlie Grable, Al Stirtzinger and W. Young.

Grable tossed 235-202-192—629, Young had 205-178-234—617, and Stirtzinger came in with 181-201-216—608.

John Perrine topped the 500's with 594, Fred Carver was next in line with 587, Fritz Vogel turned in 584, Johnny Leppo, 582, and Cliff Forsythe, 580. J. Wiedle had the best single game, 268, and a 577 series.

★

Helen Wilhelm of Urschel Insurance won a close race from Mary Dintaman, Ingram-Martin, for honors in the Women's Commercial B league. Helen finished with 193-191-161—545, while Mary had 177-172-195—544.

Evelyn Marshman, Gay Nineties, women's city champ, was the only other league member over 500. She had 503 and was followed by Florence Handwork, Ingram-Martin, 492; Sis DeWeese, All-States Freight, 490; Jean Douville, Gay Nineties, 486, and Garnet Karl, Southern hotel, 486.

Marshman was tops in the single game department with a 215 while second-place Ingram-Martin paced the teams with a 2,423. Ingram-Martin, Gay Nineties, All-States, Hart's Dairy store and Liederkranz all won sweeps.

★

Jim Cunningham popped 552 for top laurels in the Independent circuit. He put together games of 175,177 and 200 while Conrad Neidhammer was second with 128-186-230-544. Others: Vincent Kutschall, 523; D. Hahn, 505; Johnny Hill, 504 and Linville Frary ,503.

★

Lead in the Westinghouse D loop went to H. Dowds with 159-222-145-526 while Bill Jacobs trailed with 162-153-206-521. Others: John Carr, 513; R. Page, 511; Armstrong, 509; Nick Komjenovich, 508; Ike Snyder, 504 and R. Pearce, 502.

★

The Senior high league ended its season yesterday afternoon as D. Beam fired 144-163-307. R. Barry had 303, Henry, 285 and R. Callahan, 282. Corcoran had a single game of 166.

★

Walker was the Barnes league leader with 186-149-231-566 while Rhoads had 168-196-200-554. L. Rudolph paced the Barnes women with 147-129-152-428 and M. Roof had a 414.

Mat Champion Defends Title Here Tonight

Local wrestling fans will get their first chance in some time to view a championship bout when Johnny Demchuk the junior-heavyweight champ defends his 190-pound title against rough-and-tough Buzz Jones in tonight's 8:30 show in the armory.

Demchuk has held the title since winning it from Frankie Talaber in Cincinnati in 1945. He is a Canadian, a war veteran and a pro wrestler for 15 years.

The champion's specialty is a hold he terms the rolling leg-keylock. It is the bending of an opponent's leg around his own while rolling the victim around the ring.

A tag team will be the semi-final on tonight's card with good-boys Frankie Talaber and Karol Krauser meeting Wild Bill Zimovich and Don Evans, a pair of toughies. Like the main event, this match will be two out of three falls with an hour's limit.

George Strickland and Pancho Valentino will meet in the opener, one fall or 30 minutes.

Illini 9 Beats Northwestern

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. — (AP) — Off to a good start as defending co-champion of the big nine, Illinois' baseball team shot for a second successive win over Northwestern today in the opening conference title race.

The Illini, who tied for the pennant with Michigan last season, edged Northwestern 2-1 in the series opener yesterday.

In non-conference action, Indiana defeated Notre Dame 8-7 at Bloomington, Ind. and Wisconsin beat Washington university at St. Louis, 7 to 1. The Badgers got all their runs in the second inning.

Bulletin

Tommy Tucker, the injured Senior high school track star, will be able to run in this afternoon's meet against Canton McKinley. Coach Harry Mehock announced at noon. Tucker had missed practice all week with a shin cut.

Fight Results

CHICAGO—Vince Foster, 148, Omaha, outpointed Chuck Taylor, 147, Coalport, Pa., 10.

NEW YORK (St. Nicholas Arena)—Paddy Young, 151, New York, stopped Nick Mistovich, 150½, Youngstown, 8.

SAN FRANCISCO — Bernard Docusen, 145½, New Orleans outpointed Bobby Jones, 144½, Oakland Calif. 10.

INDIANAPOLIS—Willard Reed, 200, Indianapolis stopped the Alabama Kid, 184½, Columbus, O., 5.

Keiser Ties Mangrum for Masters Lead

AUGUSTA, GA. — (AP) — Unless birdies and eagles begin to fall in the final half of the masters', the winner of golf's winter circuit classic will set a record high over the Augusta national course.

Herman Keiser and Lloyd Mangrum, both oldtimers in professional golf, took 143 strokes each to reach today's third ro round. Behind them by one stroke is Johnny Palmer, of Badin, N. C.

Further back the good score shortage is acute. Five players are tied at 145; one has a 146; four have 147; seven have 148; five, 149; three 150 and six, 151.

PULLS HERM UP

Keiser's great 68 yesterday, the lowest of the tournament, lifted him all the way from a six-way tie for 22nd place to the leaders' bracket. Herman won the 1946 Masters with a 72-hole total score of 282—a considerably faster pace than he sets this year along with Mangrum.

Frank Stranahan, of Toledo, Ohio, who is to bobby sox golf fans what Frank Sinatra is to the bobby sox singers, yesterday could not get near par. Much less below it, and blew to a 77. The five-over-par round dumped him from second place the 147 bracket.

Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., is the only player going into the third round with the same ranking he had after the first 18. He still is tied with third-place players.

Heafner's 145 is in the same class with Fred Haas, jr., of New Orleans; Joe Kirkwood, jr., of Hollywood, Calif.; Bryon Nelson of Roanoke, Texas, and Jim Turnesa of Briar Cliff, N. Y.

The pre-tournament favorite, Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, shot a 77 in the second round to accompany his 76 opener.

Iberia Squad Loses, 4 to 2

NORTH ROBINSON — North Robinson, which will represent Crawford county in the Class B district tournament, defeated Iberia 4-2 here yesterday.

Althouse, on the mound for the winners fanned 11 Iberia batters while Larry Poulton struck out seven of the host team. Iberia plays at Johnsville next Tuesday and at Chesterville on Thursday.

North Robinson will be host to Madison Tuesday.

NEW ORLEANS—(UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates move back into the bigtime today against Leo Durocher's New York Giants after dropping a 6 to 3 decision to minor league Beaumont at Beaumont yesterday. The Pirates have lost four of their last five games.

Manager Bill Meyer picked Elmer Riddle to silence the power-laden Giant bats, with Cliff Chambers to back him up.

The Texas leaguers sewed up yesterday's game with a three-run splurge in the fourth inning that broke a one-one tie. Both clubs scored twice in the last five innings.

Starter Bob Chesnes was nicked for six hits in six innings. He was relieved by Tiny Bonham and Hal Gregg. First-Sacker Les Fleming led the Buc attack with three hits.

★

Hodges On First . . .

ATLANTA, Ga. — (AP) — Gil Hodges is back on first base for the Brooklyn Dodgers today following an injury to rookie Chuck Connors.

Connors, who took over the bag Thursday, was struck on the mouth with a thrown ball in pre-game practice by Catcher Bruce Edwards, who was manning third base.

Faint through loss of blood, Connors had to be helped off the field. Five stitches were required to close his badly gashed lip.

Hodges, normally a catcher, played first in the exhibition game against Atlanta which the Dodgers won, 6-3.

Coleman Goes Route . .

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(UP)— The Philadelphia Athletics continued their triumphant trip through the South today, trouncing minor league opposition. Philadelphia battered Birmingham of the Southern association, 14 to 4, yesterday, Joe Coleman becoming the fourth Athletic hurler to pitch a full game. Coleman and Pete Suder each hit homers.

★

Seek Second . . .

MOBILE, Ala.—(UP)—The Cincinnati Reds sought to make it two straight over the Mobile Bears of the Southern association today. Bucky Walter's crew, aided by homers by Ted Kluszewski and Hank Sauer, had little trouble beating the Bears, 5-0, yesterday. Millard (Dixie) Howell was the winning pitcher.

★

Ted Connects . . .

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (UP) — Reports that Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox was losing some of his power proved to be "greatly exaggerated" today.

Williams gave Jacksonville, Fla., fans something to remember him by yesterday when he belted a tremendous 450-foot home run to help Boston beat Jacksonville of the Sally league, 17 to 3.

'No Comment' . . .

BEAUMONT, Tex.—(AP)—Casey Stengel, New York Yankee manager, will reserve all decisions involving his personnel until after the club's three-game series with Brooklyn next week.

"I'll know more about the first base situation and about Joe DiMaggio then," Stengel said yesterday. "I can't tell you a thing about first except that it is now up to Billy Johnson."

DiMaggio, of course, is still Stengel's big worry. The valuable centerfielder disclosed his ailing heel is no better or no worse than when he started his first game March 30.

★

Hal Blanks Foe . . .

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(AP)—Hal Newhouser has assured the Detroit Tigers' new manager, Red Rolfe, that he can count on the slender lefthander to keep on delivering the goods this year.

Newhouser gave the assurance in the best possible way yesterday. He shut out the Memphis Chicks 10-0, giving up only four scattered singles. Tiger batters

Cincy Fight Not for Title

PATERSON, N. J. — (INS) — National Boxing Commission chairman Abe Greene denied today that the NBA would recognize a Gus Lesnevich-Joe Maxim bout as being for the world's light heavyweight championship.

The match is scheduled for Cincinnati May 23 where promoter Sam Becker is reported billing it as a world's title bout.

"The NBA recognizes this bout as being for the American title only." said Greene today. "We recognize Freddie Mills as world's light heavyweight champion since he won the title from Lesnevich and will continue to do so until he is defeated or retires."

Russell Kayoes Reynolds In 9th

Willie Russell, 144, Ohio lightweight champion, knocked out Sparky Reynolds, 145, Indianapolis, in the ninth round of their scheduled ten-rounder in Fort Wayne, Ind. last night.

The two fighters will appear in Mansfield on a VFW card April 21 at the Madison theater. They will collide in the ten-round main event.

Russell, fighting out of Columbus, has been signed to meet Dave March in an Akron headliner next Wednesday.

Indians Top Giants, 2-0; Clark Hits 1

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (INS) — The Cleveland Indians dropped their big league playmates, the New York Giants, temporarily today for a two-game series with their Oklahoma City farm club.

Early Wynn and Mike Garcia were to split the pitching chores for the Tribesmen today and Steve Gromek will hurl tomorrow.

Each of the three would have to be at his best to match the excellent hurling done by Bob Lemon and Frank Papish against the Giants yesterday in Shreveport, La.

BEST PITCHED

Lemon and Papish had not been standouts in their last few appearances on the mound, but yesterday they teamed up to give the Indians their best-pitched exhibition of the spring—a four-hit, 2-0, shutout.

The Giants, had blasted Cleveland pitchers in four straight games until yesterday, averaging 10 runs and 14 hits per contest. Last Monday the Polo Grounders slugged Lemon for seven runs in four innings.

Montia Kennedy held the Indians scoreless for the first five frames yesterday, but Thurman Tucker broke the ice when he doubled, went to third on an infield out and scored on Manager Boudreau's high fly in the sixth inning.

Allie Clark, absent from the Cleveland lineup for more than a week, knocked a home run over the left centerfield scoreboard, a drive of more than 400 feet, for the other Indian tally.

1st Christian Wins Title In Junior Church

First Christian upset the highly-touted St. John's basketball team for the second time in a week last night to win the YMCA Junior Church league championship.

The victory, by a 28-23 margin gave First Christian the 1948-49 trophy. St. John's had won the first half title. Earlier in the week First Christian beat St. John's in a playoff for the second half crown.

Like in the previous meeting, a big first half lead made the difference. St. John's outscored the winners in the last two quarters but was unable to overcome a 16-7 half-time disadvantage.

Giants, Dodgers May Make Deal

SHREVEPORT, LA. — (AP) — The Giants and the Dodgers haven't made a player swap yet, but Skipper Leo Durocher of New York left the door open today for Brooklyn's Branch Rickey to do some more dickering.

Durocher admitted that he and the Dodger president will meet again, "probably within three days," and that a deal between the clubs "is still a possibility."

Brown Pilot Sets Sights On First Division

By LEO H. PETERSEN
By United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK — Manager Zach Taylor of the St. Luis Browns has set his sights on a first division berth this year, but the feeling is general in the baseball world that he is aiming too high.

Taylor is optimistic.

"We're better than we were in 1948," he claimed. "But I'm not going to say how we're going to finish. Our team has the spirit and fight that carries a young club to victory, but many of our kinds are inexperienced and they may make mistakes. But I think we'll do all right."

Last year, when he started his first full season as pilot of the Browns, he insisted his club was better than the 1947 team and "we won't finish last." He turned out all right as a prophet for the Browns came in sixth.

Despite a wholesale house cleaning, that is the spot most experts are assigning to the Browns this year. They definitely look superior to the Senators and White Sox.

They have only two established major leaguers—third baseman Bob Dillinger and second baseman Gerry Priddy—a host of promising rookies and a long line of castoffs who couldn't make the grade with other major league clubs.

Jack Graham, who failed to make it as an outfielder with the Dodgers and Giants, appears to have won the first base job. Two other fellows who never have quite been able to make the grade are vying for the shortstop post—Ed Pellagrini, who hit only .238 with the Browns last year, and John Sullivan, a .208 hitter with the Senators last season.

In the outfield, Al Zarilla, who enjoyed his best season last year when he hit .329, and Dick Kokos, have won regular berths. Kokos hit .298 with the Browns after they brought him up from Toledo, or the other spot there are Paul Lahner, who has shown signs of getting back to the form he displayed in 1947 when he appeared headed for stardom and Whitey Platt, who hit only .271 with the Browns last season.

Les Moss and Sherman Lollar, a Cleveland and Yankee castoff, will share the catching duties.

Pitching is thin with Cliff Fannin, who won 10 games while losing 14 last year, expected to be the No. 1 man on the staff. Taylor will choose his other starters from among Ned Garver, Red Embree, Karl Drews, Bob Savage, Dick Starr, Bob Malloy and Bill Kennedy.

Back of them is Tom Ferrick as the chief fireman.

Churches Begin Holy Week With Palm Sunday Services

Rites Celebrate Christ's Entry Into Jerusalem

By NITA BRANSON
(N-J Church Editor)

Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem on the Sunday before his crucifixion will be echoed in sermon and hymns tomorrow as thousands of worshippers gather in Mansfield churches.

Because the crowds gathered that day almost 2,000 years ago to shout Hosannas and to wave palm branches as He rode by, Palm Sunday is one of joyous celebration in the religious world.

In St. Peter's Catholic and the Grace Episcopal churches, palms and palm crosses will be blessed and distributed among the congregations.

Pastors of city churches will have sermons dealing with the theme, and choirs of the city will sing anthems, typifying the spiritual triumph of Palm Sunday.

The city's Palm Sunday services include:

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Rev. Ben. F. Hagelbarger will speak on the subject, "Love's Last Appeal" and the choir will sing, "Ride On, Ride On" by Scott, while the offertory solo will be Parker's "Jerusalem," sung by Robert Crowl.

FIRST U. PRESBYTERIAN
There will be reception of members and the observance of the Lord's Supper with Rev. Charles L. Shook preaching on the theme, "We Would See Jesus."

FIRST LUTHERAN
Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell will preach on the theme, "Continue Thou," and the choir will sing Scott's "Ride On, Ride On." Mrs. Wanda Hess Donnan will be soloist for the anthem.

ST. MARK'S LUTHERAN
Children and adults will be baptized in special services tomorrow morning by Rev. C. A. Portz, pastor. The choir will sing a special Palm Sunday anthem. The sermon theme will be "Life is the Witnessing."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN
Mrs. C. O. Anglin will lead the choir in singing "On the Way to Jerusalem," from Maunder's "Olivet to Calvary." Rev. David N. Roller will preach on the theme, "He Set His Face Toward Jerusalem." Royal Buchanan will sing as an offertory Scott's "Ride On."

EAST MANSFIELD U. P.
Rev. E. W. Welch's theme for tomorrow will be "The Glory of the Unseen Cross." The choir of the church will sing. "Crown Him Lord," by Norman.

GRACE EPISCOPAL
Palm crosses will be distributed to members of the parish by Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard, rector, at 11 a. m. tomorrow. Rev. Peard will conduct the Service of Morning Prayer and Sermon. The day's services will begin with Holy Communion in the chapel at 8 a. m. followed by the blessing and distribution of the Palm crosses. Mrs. Emery T. Smith will sing Faure's "The Palms."

ST. PETER'S CATHOLIC
There will be the solemn blessing and distribution of the palms, with solemn High Mass at the 11:45 a. m. services tomorrow. Msgr. R. C. Goebel will preside at the Mass. Other Masses for the day will be held as usual.

MAIN ST. EVANGELICAL
The choir of the church will sing as an anthem, "With Palms and With Praises," by Marshall. Mrs. F. K. Tingley will direct. For an offertory trio, Miss Ruth Elaine Breyman, Miss Joanne Solomon and Miss Eleanor Homerick will sing, "See the Garden Where He Lies," by Giebel. Rev. Willard J. Shawk will take as his text, "The Compassionate Christ."

ST. PAUL LUTHERAN
The senior choir, directed by J. Frederick Wolf, will sing "Ride On in Majesty," by Peace, and "Prepare Ye the Way," by Lorenz. Rev. John G. Gensel's sermon topic will be "Indian Summer, Then Winter."

CENTRAL METHODIST
Parker's "Jerusalem" will be sung by the adult choir of the church and both junior and adult choirs will join in presenting Faure's "The Palms" as an offertory number. Rev. J. Frank Stewart has selected "What Think Ye of Christ" as his sermon subject. At tomorrow evening's service, the men's chorus of the church will sing. At 2:30 p. m. there will be baptismal services.

ST. MATTHEW'S LUTHERAN
"Palm Branches and the Cross Bearer" will be the subject of the sermon which Dr. Charles F. Sheriff will preach tomorrow morning. For an anthem, the junior and senior choirs will sing "The Palms" and for an offertory, Mrs. Sheriff will present "Open the Gates of the Temple."

ST. LUKE'S LUTHERAN
Miss Florence MacDonald will lead the senior and junior choirs in singing, "Jerusalem," by Parker, and the senior choir alone in Mueller's Palm Sunday anthem, "Lift High the Triumph Song." Dr. Herbert S. Garnes will preach an appropriate sermon and receive confirmands.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
Rev. A. H. Perry, pastor, will preach tomorrow morning on the theme, "Jesus' Vision of a Lost World" and tomorrow night, "Jesus Speaks from the Cross." There will be special music by the choir.

PARK AVENUE BAPTIST
Dr. W. M. Taylor's subject for tomorrow morning will be "Christ's Dependability." George Lake, student at Denison university, will sing Scott's "Ride On, Ride On" and the choir will present Gounod's "Jerusalem, O Turn Ye."

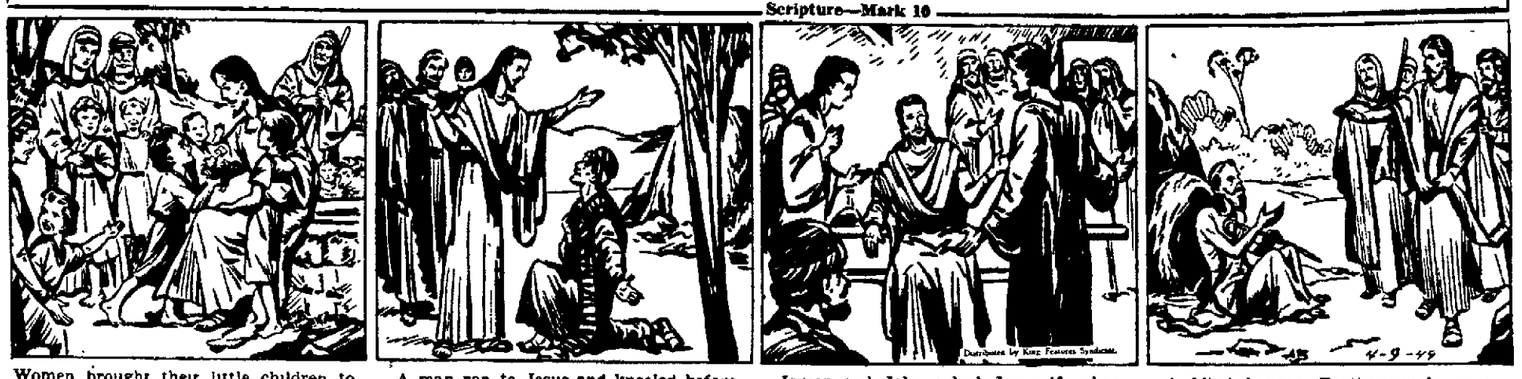
FIRST CONGREGATIONAL
"Facing our Jerusalems" will be the theme of the sermon by Rev. Matthew G. Madden at the noon worship hour. Miss Jean Turner will sing Faure's "The Palms" while the choir's selection will be Gounod's "Jerusalem, O Turn Ye."

FIRST METHODIST
Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner will bring words of assurance to his congregation tomorrow morning, with reception of new members and baptism during the service. The junior choir will sing, "Hosanna," the sanctuary choir, "Ride On," by Scott, and Willis Naas will present as a solo, "The Palms" by Faure.

MAYFLOWER CONGREGATIONAL
Rev. Arthur F. Lindbeck will preach on the subject, "Accepting the Palm Sunday Christ."

Jesus Blesses Little Children — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Mark 10



Women brought their little children to Jesus to be blessed, and His disciples rebuked them but Jesus said, "Suffer the little children to come unto Me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

A man ran to Jesus and kneeled before Him, saying, "Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?" When Jesus told him to sell his goods and give to the poor, he went away, sorrowing, for he was rich.

James and John asked Jesus if, when He was in glory, they might sit one on each side of Him. Jesus said that he who would be great among men must minister, even as He, the son of Man served.

A blind beggar, Bartimaeus by name, saw Jesus passing and called to Him, "Thou Son of David, have mercy upon me." Jesus heard him, beckoned, and healed the man.

MEMORY VERSE—Mark 10:14.

Present 2 Cantatas

Two Easter cantatas will be presented Sunday evning, one at the Main Street Evangelical UB and the other at the First Christian church.

The program at the Main street church will be sung by the Mansfield Choral Society under the direction of J. Frederick Wolf. Members will sing Dubois "Seven Last Words," one of the famed oratorios of the Easter season. Soloists will include Paul Smith, Mrs. Robert Brook, Miss Betty Pagnard, Don Fatkin, and John Taylor.

Selection from the cantata, "Eastertide," by Protheroe, will be sung by the chapel choir of the First Christian church under the direction of Mrs. Bruce Rogers. Soloists will include Mrs. O. F. Shively, Robert Crowl, Clarence Swaidner, Paul Thomas, Mrs. James Rice, Raymond Holmes and Mrs. Frank Maul.

Under the direction of Miss Alice Wendling, the junior choir will sing two numbers and the young people's choir will present two others. For the closing number, the three choirs will unite in singing Mozart's "Alleluia."

Mrs. H. H. Clingan will be organist for the concert.

Church Picks Officers

Four elders, five trustees and officers of the First United Presbyterian church were elected at the annual congregational meeting Thursday night, following a covered dish supper.

Rev. Charles L. Shook, pastor, conducted the meeting. Elders elected for a term of six years include: Fred T. Proctor, W. W. Crouch, Howard McClure, and Glenn Guthrie. There are 10 elders in the church.

Clair Kirchhofer was elected president of the congregation, succeeding Guthrie. Ralph Dickson jr., was elected vice president; Leonard Ebbert, secretary, and Miss Maude Stewart, treasurer.

The five trustees include: Ewing Martin, Mrs. Henry Senert, Bernard Simmons, Charles Kafer and Frank Gadfield. They will serve for terms of two years each and are among the 10 trustees of the church.

During the session, Rev. Shook showed movies as a program feature.

VATICAN SEES PEACE

VATICAN CITY — (AP) — The Vatican does not expect war this year, Monsignor Sergio Pignedoli reports.

Classes Take Church Loyalty Vows

Young People to Be Confirmed Sunday

Tomorrow is traditional confirmation Sunday in many churches. In Mansfield, classes of teenagers will take vows of membership and church loyalty in four churches.

Rev. John C. Melchert of St. John's church will receive 18 young people at the morning service. They include: Mary Kay Berlo, Keith Brinley, Jean Horchler, Robert McLaughlin, Naomi Moser, Barbara McGinnis, Carolee Ridenour, Ralph Ridenour, Barbara Scott, Evelyn Schermer, Dolores Schneider, Georgene Scholler, William Schneider, Joan Sperzel, Harold Stanley, Barbara Wentz, Donna Wolverton and Faye Wolverton.

A class of 17 will be confirmed at the St. Matthew's Lutheran church. Dr. Charles Sheriff will receive into membership the following: Janet Rose Weaver, Mariam Kay Hardman, Shirley Clara Gurtz, Patricia Ann Mabee, Carol Eileen Mitchell, Barbara Ann Leech, Sheila Mae Nickelvich, Nancy Lu Knoll, Carol Su Knoll, Judy Lee Parker, Rose Marie Hursh, Diane Rose Funston, Nancy Lee Harbaugh, Patricia Louise Leigey and Shirley Ann Liegey.

CONFIRMS NINE

Nine will be confirmed by Dr. Herbert S. Garnes at the St. Luke's Lutheran church. They include: David Couchman, Marilyn Curl, Noel Huston, Edward Huston, Sally Leppo, Margaret Reynolds, Mary Reynolds, George Rex and George Swank.

At the First Lutheran church 35 young people will promise allegiance to the doctrine and ideals of their church.

Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell will receive the following: Patricia Becker, Marcella Biddle, Esther Cashell, Dolores Danals, Barbara Darling, Shirley Greving, Beverley Hedges, Carol Jones, Marilyn Knarr, Roberta Longsdorf, Phyllis Lorentz, Dolores Mayer, Shirley Massa, Shirley Meeting, Karen Arlene Mon, Anna Nelson, Joanne Nichols, Nancy Peppard, Joanne Sapp, Sandra Schonauer, Betty Staninger, Darlene Sweval, Nancy Urich, Carroll Ackerman, Robert Ackerman, Donald Beddard, Tommy Bricker, Bruce Doner, Kenneth Haverfield, Clyde Hunter jr., Donald Kessler, Harrison Kline, Dale Riggie, James Schafer, Mark White.

Show Easter Picture

The motion picture, Golgotha, or "Way of the Cross" will be presented at the 7:30 p. m. service tomorrow at the First Lutheran church by members of the Brotherhood of the church.

The film shows faithfully the Biblical narrative of the life of Christ leading up to the crucifixion, with accompanying musical score by Jacques Ibert.

There are thousands in the cast and the film took three years to produce at a tremendous cost, said Don Miller, president of the Brotherhood.

Reviews of the film call it "brilliantly directed, impressively staged and sincerely moving."

Miller is working with Harold Boals, vice president; Robert McCullough, treasurer, and Theodore McBride in presenting the film.

Celebrate Passover

Pesach, or the Feast of the Passover will be celebrated by Mansfield Jewish congregations beginning next Wednesday, in ceremonies which commemorate the deliverance of the Jewish people from Egypt.

The holiday begins at sundown Wednesday and continues through sundown Wednesday, April 20. During that time, the Passover, is celebrated in individual homes and with special services at the temples.

Rabbi Eugene C. Lippman, of Cincinnati, will be here the second night of the holiday for services at the Temple Emanuel.

At the B'Nai Jacob synagogue, services will be held on Wednesday night. Children of the congregation will participate for the Wednesday night service, then on Sunday, a shorter service, patterned after the more lengthy traditional rites on Wednesday, will be held with the children presenting the worship program.

Boy Dies of Polio

TOLEDO — (INS) — An acute brain inflammation caused by polio was blamed for the death of James Thomas Hanely, three and one-half year old Toledo lad.

Mrs. Harold Oxman is chairman of the Sunday service. Rabbi Moshe Goldblum will preside at the services.

In keeping with the Hebrew traditions, an elaborate meal on Seder will be served following the worship at the Wednesday service at B'Nai Jacob and Thursday service at the Temple Emanuel.
